There are computers in the library which you can use, like the one in the picture. We have twelve computers in this library. To log on, use your library card number (written on your card) and 4-digit pin which you set with the librarian

You can photocopy, scan & print too.

Athy Library has a Cubbie sensory hub.
It is wheelchair accessible.

The library staff at the desk are there to help you

If you have a JAM card, you can show the library staff, we have JAM card training

The library has the day's newspapers and magazines that you can read sitting on comfortable seats

The library is quiet most of the time, but it can be louder and busier. It's okay to make noise too!

This is what your library card looks like. Use this card to borrow books or log onto a PC. Always ask a member of staff if you need help or if you forget your 4-digit PIN

You can borrow DVDs and computer games
as well as books at the library

We have three self service machines for borrowing and returning items. One is in the children's section, the other two are on the main floor of the library. You can leave the books on the trolley next to the machine when you have returned them

We also have lots of books, audiobooks and DVDs in our children's area

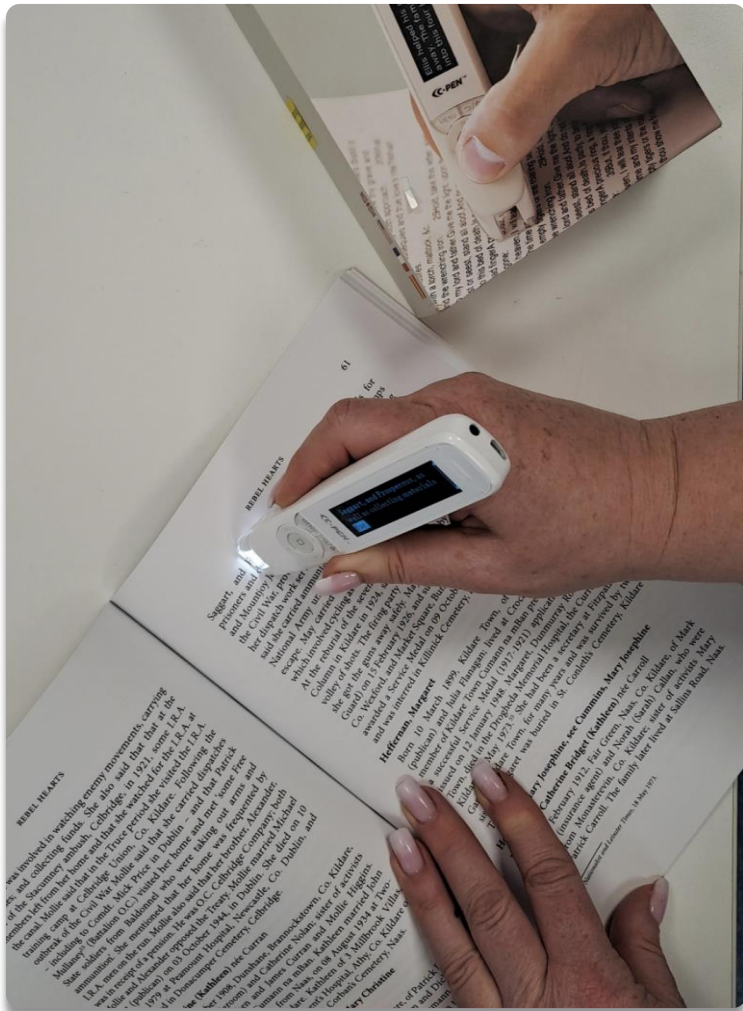

The white table is a study table. There are study tables upstairs and downstairs. You can book a table for study. Just ask at the desk

The library has a box of sensory toys and equipment that you can use while you are visiting

This person is holding a reader pen. If you like, you can put your name on a waiting list to borrow the reader pen from the library.

This is a plan of the library building. We look forward to your visit!
