What is the TTT Programme?

The TTT Programme is designed to offer support to our neurodiverse community.

Based in Athy, Leixlip and Naas libraries, a specialised collection of toys and assistive equipment can be accessed free of charge in branches throughout the county and can be borrowed or utilised by joining up at any Kildare library.

Items in the catalogue can be requested or renewed online and collected by the borrower at their nearest branch library. Pick up a catalogue at any Kildare library or view it online at kildarecoco.ie/library.

This collection has been chosen by the staff of Kildare Library Service in partnership with therapists working in the community.

Membership is free to any individual who lives, works or goes to school in County Kildare. Contact your local library for further terms and conditions of use.

A full list of our libraries and contact information is available at kildarecoco.ie/library.

Free Talks and Workshops

The TTT Programme includes an annual series of free talks and workshops, funded by Kildare County Council. These events offer further guidance, support and networking opportunities for parents, teachers and healthcare professionals.

Attendance is open to everyone and free of charge, though booking is required.

TTT talks and workshops from February to May 2024 will be in-person events taking place across Kildare libraries—please take note of location (📍) when booking.

Continuous Professional Development

Certificates of Attendance are available for all TTT talks and workshops.

Certificates will be available from the venue after the event. Please note that certificates will only be issued on the night and cannot be requested at a later time.

Sensory Garden at Leixlip Library

Sensory Pods at Leixlip & Kildare Town

Sensory pods are a safe space designed to address the needs of those with sensory support, processing or anxiety-based challenges.

The pods offer options to engage or limit visual, auditory and kinesthetic supports.

Sensory pods are located in Kildare Town Library and Leixlip Library; for more information or to book a session, contact the relevant library directly: kildarelib@kildarecoco.ie / leixliplib@kildarecoco.ie

Tovertafel (Magic Table) at Leixlip & Naas

The Tovertafel is a special projector that turns any blank surface into a 'magic table', or interactive games surface.

It was developed with the care sector in mind, focusing on making games more accessible and therapeutic to those with a cognitive challenge.

In particular, games have been developed that support children and adults with autism and older adults with Alzheimer's and Dementia.

Booking is required. For more info or to make a booking, contact Leixlip Library at / leixlib@kildarecoco.ie or Naas Library at naaslib@kildarecoco.ie

Cubbie at Athy and Naas Libraries

The Cubbie offers a sensory solution for people with autism, ADHD and other sensory processing disorders (SPD) and anxiety. It delivers a sensory programme specific to a person's unique sensory needs, helping them to regulate and better participate in school, work or play activities. The Cubbie is easy to use, allowing each user to adjust LED lighting, sounds and vital effects to match their needs. It provides flexible seating options including slings and rockers, and is wheelchair accessible.

Booking is required. For more info or to make a booking, contact Athy Library at athylib@kildarecoco.ie or Naas Library at naaslib@kildarecoco.ie

Ta Tum Tum! is an interactive music workshop for children exploring Brazilian rhythms, body awareness, creative movement and sound healing.

Through the workshop, children will develop their creativity, confidence, and self-expression. They'll also learn about teamwork and communication as they work together to create rhythms and movements. Ta Tum Tum! workshops are designed to promote physical activity, which is vital for children's health and wellbeing.

Ta Tum Tum! is more than just a workshop—it's an immersive experience that celebrates the spirit of Brazil, its captivating rhythms, and the universal language of music. Let us unleash your child's artistic potential in this unforgettable journey of sound and expression.

No music experience needed. An adult must accompany.

Led by: Kasia Eliazsz & William Kanela.

Sibshops are fun workshops for siblings of children with special needs. They are lively, with games and discussions.

As well as having lots of fun this online Sibshop will provide a great opportunity for siblings to get together and chat about some of the difficulties and the positives of having a sibling with special needs.

The workshops are aimed at children aged between 8 to 12 years (inclusive) with a maximum of 10 children in the group recommended as this works best in order to give all the children a chance to contribute to the discussions and games. Their sibling with special needs should be over 2 ½ years so that they can see and understand that their brother or sister has special needs.

Siblings experience the same joys and concerns as their parents yet have fewer opportunities to gain access to support. Often siblings do not want to burden their parents with their own worries. Sibshop Workshops are one way of offering them fun and the support they deserve.

AAC at the Library is an interactive session to show how stories can be read using an AAC device to support AAC users in actively participating in story time.

AAC stands for Augmentative and Alternative Communication. AAC includes strategies (e.g. signing, gesture, etc.) and equipment (e.g. a symbol chart, an alphabet chart, a simple talking button, a more complex computer-based voice output communication aid, etc.) that support or replace speech. This session will focus on how to use a high-tech voice output communication aid to support AAC users to access all the benefits of storytime. This session is most suitable for children aged 3 to 8 years, but older children can also participate. Parents and siblings can attend to learn how to use an AAC device interactively to support AAC in storytelling.

At the end of the session, there will be an opportunity to ask questions and discuss how book reading can be continued at home and in the library using an AAC device.

Helping Children and Teenagers with ADD/ADHD

A course for parents, carers and teachers

Dr. Dorothy Armstrong

Dr Armstrong will be delivering a series of six sessions in parenting/working with children and teenagers with ADD/ADHD.

They are aimed at parents, teachers and those who work with people with ADHD.

The course is designed for participants to attend on a weekly basis for the full course, however it is also open to people opting in for some of the sessions that are especially relevant to them, however sessions three to six build on each other and where possible it is recommended that you attend all of these where possible.

Session 1

 13.02.2024
7pm

 Leixlip
Library

Book Tickets

Children and teenagers with ADD/ADHD frequently find it difficult to tune out sensory information. This can be very overwhelming and dysregulating. Can you imagine what it's like to be in a classroom where you notice and are distracted by every movement the other students make, what's happening outside the window, the noise of the radiator? This talk will provide insights into the types of sensory processing issues experienced and give some practical solutions and techniques that can help.

Executive skills allow people to organise what they do over time and be able to resist immediate demands in order to achieve longer term goals e.g. resist playing computer games in order to do homework so as to achieve well in exams. Executive skills help people to plan and organise activities, sustain attention and to keep going in order to complete a task. They are also involved in managing emotions and in self-monitoring.

Session 3

 27.02.2024
7pm

 Leixlip
Library

Book Tickets

Children and teenagers with ADD/ADHD are often misunderstood. People who don't understand their struggles can be tempted to think that they 'should just try harder' or that 'they're deliberately being challenging or difficult'. This attitude can lead to the child feeling misunderstood and frustrated which can compound the issues. This talk will help participants have a deeper understanding of the lagging skills and environmental issues that can cause 'challenging behaviours' and will learn how to reframe them.

Session 4

 05.03.2024
7pm

 Leixlip
Library

Book Tickets

In this talk participants will learn how to move into the next phase of the process of helping children become problem solvers. We will discuss ways in which to listen and learn from the child so that we can help a child communicate and understand why they might be struggling in an area. We will discuss co-regulation and self-regulation and how to be an empathetic listener.

Session 5

 12.03.2024
7pm

 Leixlip
Library

Book Tickets

This talk builds on the learning from the last two talks. Participants will learn how to help children draw up plans to help themselves manage and reduce what would traditionally have been called 'challenging behaviours'. We will discuss what is entailed in such a plan, how to help the child put a plan together, how to monitor the plan and change it if it doesn't work.

Session 6

 19.03.2024
7pm

 Leixlip
Library

Book Tickets

This is our final talk in the series. We will consolidate the learning from the other sessions and facilitate participants to be ready to use the techniques and strategies that they have learned. We will also discuss the importance of building self-esteem in children and teenagers with ADD/ADHD and discuss ways we can foster resilience and well-being going forward.

Yoga is about feeling good in your body and these sessions are designed specifically for neurodiverse children. They can come to a class and feel free to explore a wide range of sensory based activities at their own pace and if it's suitable they can engage in some fun Yoga games. Most children know what they need to support regulation, each child is so unique and different that by providing a range of activities to explore they will naturally be guided towards what they need in that moment.

Interoception: what is it and how to build it

Hunger, thirst, emotions, tiredness, pain, toilet, temperature come to us as internal sensations. These messages can be hard to notice, or overwhelming, for some people. Learn about interoceptive awareness if you know, or are, someone who is always/never hungry or thirsty, over-heats, has 0-90 emotional reactions, varying response to pain, varying awareness of the need to go to the toilet. This sense of our internal sensations can vary in people, and has a huge, often hidden, impact on our wellbeing.

What's behind that movement - let's explore vestibular sensory processing

"Can't sit still, always on the go" or "very cautious moving, scared of heights" can describe someone with vestibular processing issues.

This important sense in our body influences movement, body awareness and confidence. It underpins our listening and communication, as well as our ability to control our movements. Learn more about this sense and what activities support it.
